Once in a vision . . .

PUBLIC LIBRARY
EAST LONGMEADOW, MASS

I come to some woods . . .

JUN 20 1978

and I stand at a fork in the road.

FLY NAVY

My choices seem clear

yet I shudder with the fear of not knowing which way to go.

One road seems simple:
Acceptance of life as it is.

The other offers little consolation or peace.

Yet when I make my decision, my vision becomes my release.

Still, I'm aware of the consequences . . .

should my plans
for the future fall through:

I will throw down my final defenses

for the chance to try something new . . .

The Good Doctor Is In . . .

. . . The Game Is Love All

For sixteen years our favorite Georgia peach, Dr. Jakie Upshaw, has been learnin' us the basics of tin-nis, the fundamentals of volley-bah-l, and the proper techniques of basketbah-l.

Although she possesses a Bachelor's and a Master's degree and a Doctorate in Physical Education, she has not lost touch with our problems. Her concern and tart advice has straightened out more than one confused pupil and earned the love and respect of all the student body.

She is more than just a great educator — she is a great person and the greatest fan any E.L.H.S. student will ever have. In slow game periods, how many teams have heard that rallying call, "Go, Ridd"? Who else walks around 180 days a year in a flashy warm-up suit — or asks a restless member of a gym class, "You wanna go swimmin?" See that warm Southern smile — where else could you find it except on "Mizz" Upshaw?

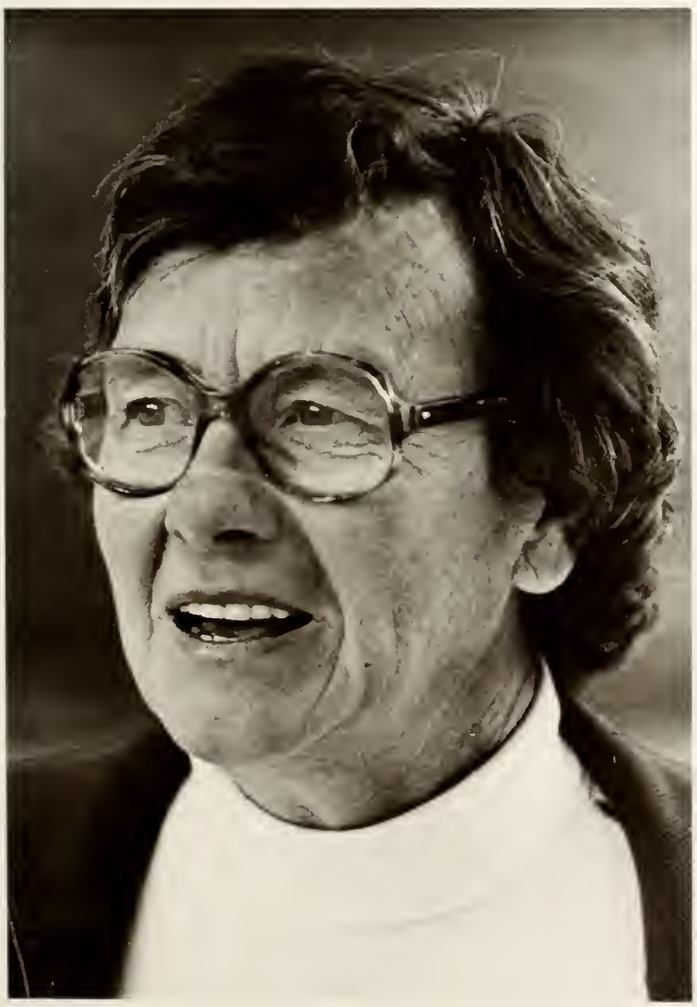

What can we offer a woman who has devoted so much of herself to the service of a single community?

As a token of our deep affection, we dedicate Aegis '78 to you, Dr. Jakie Upshaw.

Room 212

It's over the ad quota for Gary Pomeroy.

Bob Moras describes a snow job.

Julie McDyer adds the ads.

This is Room 212. The teacher is Mr. Burns. The kids are, well, just a bunch of kids like you and me. Except these kids spend very large amounts of time and energy working each year to help produce the yearbook. Through rain and snow, or foulest day, they doggedly canvas our town for patrons and ads. Aegis would not be possible without them. 'Nuff said.

The human computer, Mr. Burns, and Terry Contrino, apply logic to the campaign.

Mr. Dunajski

Super Counselors

Through Realistic Problems

Able to leap huge reams of paper in a single bound, race to their coffee breaks faster than a student's car leaving the parking lot, more powerful than an irate curriculum coordinator — "Look — down in the office — It's a bird; it's a plane; it's the Super Counselors!"

Meet the Super Counselors, ELHS' answer to the plea of faculty, parents and students, "HELP". Disguised as mild-mannered laborers in a suburban American high school, these Super C's fight a never-ending battle for perfect student placements, stupendous SAT's, and the American Way!

In Memoriam

Do you remember a boy named Jackson?

Ronny Jackson- a thin, big-boned boy with a wide smile?

He joined us in the grades and we came along together. We shared word lists, and science fairs, and indoor gym at Birchland Park, and the aggravation of never being big enough or old enough to do what we wanted.

Remember Ron?

He was like each of us . . . quiet when things went wrong; pushing down the halls, laughing and noisy with relief when things were great. There were people he liked who became friends; others he didn't like and didn't bother with; some he never knew.

Before summer officially begins this year, our class will be graduated; this part of our lives will be over. We're looking back and looking ahead, trying to choose what comes next. It is frightening and exhilerating for all of us- except for Ronny Jackson. He died, a freshman, in 1974.

We set this page aside for him.

Remember Ronny?

Edward Ouimet

Born: May 23, 1960
Died: January 11, 1978

"To lose the life you have, for greater life;
To leave the friends you loved, for greater loving;
To find a land more kind than home, more large than earth —
Whereon the pillars of this earth are founded,
Toward which the conscience of the world is tending —
A wind is rising, and the rivers flow."

Cheerleaders Inspire Spartans

This year, as always, the cheerleaders have shown their never ending faith in our Spartan teams by devoting seemingly unlimited amounts of time and energy to their cause. When the time comes for giving credit where credit is due, the cheerleaders are forgotten more often than not. They have no scores, merely perfect record of attendance, which speaks for itself. When the going got rough, they were always there to booster the morale of the mighty Spartan warriors with their cries of "Go Red, go!" The cheerleaders have seen the players and fans alike through many unparalleled victories.

Jim Foley sheds a tackle.

After opening the season by rolling over a hapless Emfield team, the Spartans came up short against Division I standout, Chicopee. The Spartans got back on the winning track by running off 4 consecutive wins against Hamp., S. Hadley, Classical, and Ludlow. Some find running by Captains Jim Foley and Rick Willis and Junior sensation Joe D'Angelo made E.L.'s ground attack the best in the league. It was not, however, enough to stave off losses to League Champ. Minnechaug, or to a spirited Longmeadow team in the last game.

Co-captain Kris Mumford goes off the deep end.

"0:25.65, 0:25.70, uh-oh!!"

The 1977 Spartan mermaids swam and dove towards another successful season. Under the direction and guidance of Coach Susan Laing and Assistant Coach Kim Wiezbicki, the girls dual meet record was 10-3. The team continued their fine performances by placing second in the Western Mass Championships, followed by the capture of the State Title. Carolyn Burney and Karen Wiezbicki shared the award of MVP for their many fine performances throughout the season.

An endurance runner often thinks he is choosing a socially approved and oriented activity but soon discovers his new way of life is one of isolation and loneliness. The rest of his world finds it hard to understand a man who deliberately chooses the way of daily rigorous routine and hardship. This alone sets him apart. But the full extent of his estrangement from his fellow men does not really hit him until an hour or so before the race is to start; he suddenly feels the enormity of the task before him. But there are compensations for this, for, as condition and control are acquired, the runner gradually senses that he has found a harmony within himself, and with all about him, that is certainly different and perhaps greater than he has ever known before.

The senior class contributed many fantastic players to the team-Tracy Parker, Paula Trinceri, Lynn O'Brien and Cindy Keddy. Among the exceptional Juniors were Cindy Seyler, Pat Smile and Sue Lievens, while Lee Parker and Kim Oski were excellent sophomore players. The talents of many Freshmen greatly enriched the team. Rennie Moras was voted the most valuable player and Lynn Hedin, the top scorer. Rose Medrek and Terri Henrich show promise for 1978.

Hockey

Spartans Surprise Experts,

After the 76-77 hockey season, there wasn't an awful lot expected of the Spartan icemen. However, under the excellent coaching of Mr. Fassnacht and Mr. Callahan, the 77-78 squad surpassed all pre-season predictions as they finished second in the league with a 10-6-2 record, good enough to earn a post season playoff berth. This year marked the arrival of several promising new faces on the hockey scene, including; Jimmy Trase, high scoring wing; John McCullough, the team's leading scorer; and Ted Fitzgerald, an excellent left wing. Highlights of the year included a tremendous 4-3 victory over Minnechaug and ties with league leaders Longmeadow and Easthampton. In the playoffs, the Spartans took on the top seeded Taconic team. The redmen played all out in an effort that left the score at 2-1 Taconic, after two periods, as the result of the brilliant goaltending of Spartan netminder Chris Trinceri. In the last period, the Braves broke down the EL defense, scoring three times to make the final score 5-2. The team wishes to thank the many fans who helped make the 78 team the success that it was.

Girls Basketball, led by senior tri-captains Nina Roberts, Trish Bradstreet and Carla Moses, endured a tough schedule this season. The spirit of the players added to the sincere effort which was displayed by all. The promising talent of many J.V. players insures an encouraging record for next years varsity team. Congratulations to Nina Roberts who was named to this years All-Star team.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

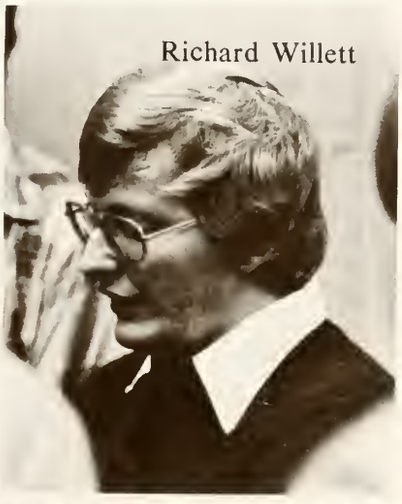

Industrial Arts is the part of general education that concerns itself with materials, processes, products and occupations of industry. It involves both a study and experience from which the learning comes through the pupil's experience with tools and materials and through his study of related conditions of life. Industrial Arts provides students an opportunity to develop knowledge and skills in the areas of woodworking, metal work, power mechanics, electricity, electronics, mechanical and engineering drawing. The courses do not attempt to develop skills needed in earning a livelihood or to train a pupil f… tion. It is planned to provide an opportunity to expose … ces which constitute a sound background for post-se… prenticeships and for the do-it-yourself homeowner.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Physical Education program for girls and boys is designed to meet the physical and recreational, as well as the social needs of youth.

The aim of our program is to develop agility, strength, skill and endurance and to provide for survival and recreation through swimming.

We try to meet these needs through a wide variety of team, individual, and co-educational activities. Juniors and seniors are allowed to select their courses with a concentration in the area of life time sports.

Juniors and Seniors may select Physical Education activities within the following guidelines:

1. Juniors and seniors will be assigned to a specific block.

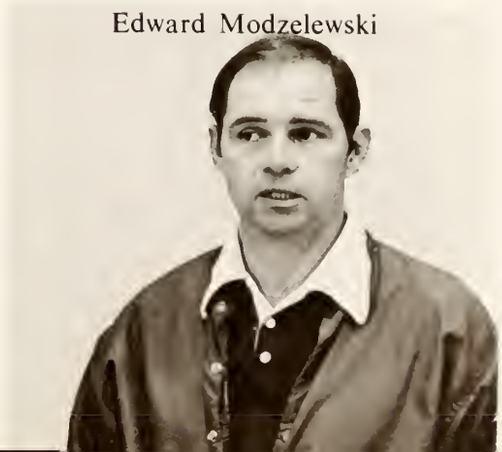

2. Juniors and seniors will sign up for two semesters of gym, co-educational electives will be offered within the classes depending on availability of instructors and facilities.

3. Sign up for electives will take place during the first week of classes.

The aftermath

Rose Resta, "boss"

The kitchen crew at work

The kitchen staff, connoisseurs of fine food and milk, have not only mastered the art of dehydration synthesis, but also the transformation of government surplus into exotic dishes. At E.L.H.S., every student is furnished with a vast menu of foods, consisting of soups, sandwiches, and Cheez'n Crackers. At forty cents, the daily specials cannot be topped. Seriously, we owe much to these women who have toiled over grill and stove all year round, to provide students and faculty that extra gas to get them through the day. Perhaps someday we could take them out to lunch.

Janitors

Often unnoticed, the burly boys of the boiler room worked their fingers to the bone this year. And as if the chore of keeping our hallowed halls clean wasn't enough, the custodians also had to shovel out the mountains of snow that left E.L.H.S. marooned during February. One other project that seemed to bring the working men out of the woodwork, was the installation of smoke alarms in the hallways. After four years of dedicated service to the class of '78, they deserve our thanks for a job well done.

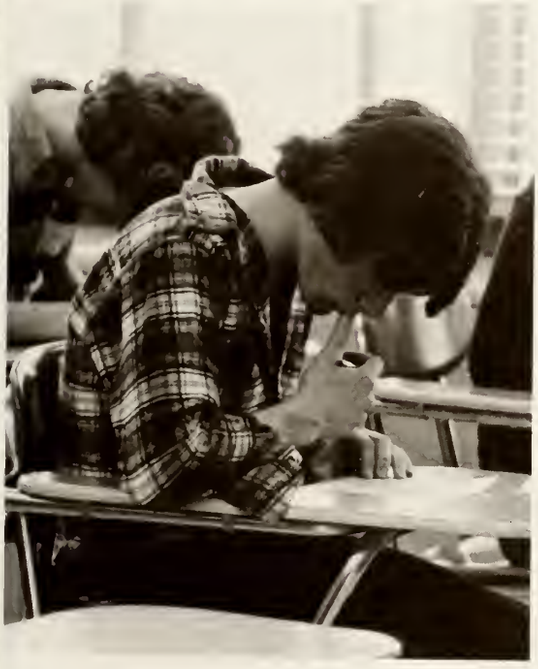

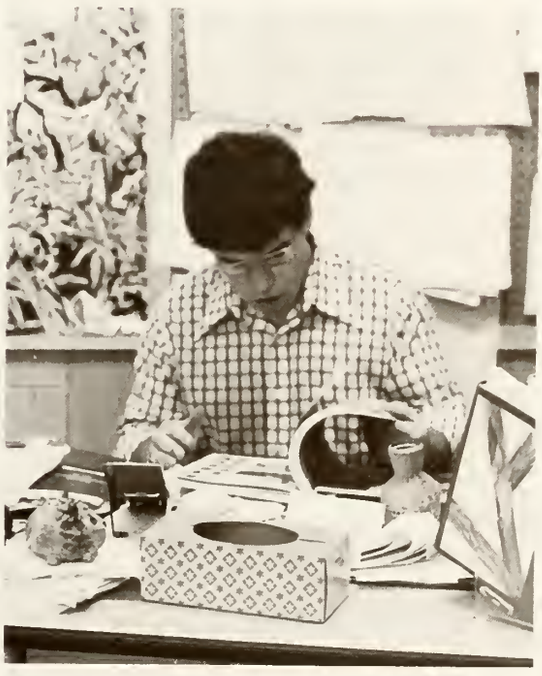

Below: A few of the faithful E.L.H.S. custodial engineers.

Jubilant Lacrosse braves will spend less time lurking in the shadows of the playing fields waiting to skirmish this year, and undeterred by rain or snow or fish or foul, legitimately scalp all opponents.

M*A*S*H #4077

M*A*S*H, that satirical look at the mobile hospitals of the Korean War, was the Drama Club's major production of this year.

Steve Starkie, Rick Galerani and John Buckingham were waging their own private war of quips in the characters of Hawk-eye, Duke and Col. Blake respectively.

Director, Tina Marino, and Producer, Carney McRae, put in long hours before the performances to present a well-organized and humorous interlude for the people of this town.

Future Teachers Of America

Teacher: A person whose purpose in life is to train or instruct. This definition doesn't really say a lot since a teacher is really much more than mere words can express. In order to truly educate, a teacher needs wide experience in many fields, and students can gain this necessary background by working in the F.T.A. Every week, students visit the elementary schools in town and spend one or two hours working with young children in many areas. In this way, F.T.A. can help the student decide whether he or she really has what it takes to be a professor of learning.

Library Aides

As in the years gone by, the 77-78 Library Aides have performed admirably in the execution of their duties. As curators of Jarvis Memorial Library, they are responsible for the more than 15,000 volumes that occupy the shelves. The effeciency of these people has proven invaluable to Mrs. Lopes, who deserves our thanks for assembling such an industrious group. Having already expanded into all available space, it will be interesting to see how the group handles the dilemma of where to put the next 15,000 books.

Members of the 1977-1978 "Spartan Spectator" staff have worked diligently on production of their national award winning paper. However, they have not tried to gear publication to national standards but to the interests of the students that purchase the paper.

Trying to appeal to a vast group of very different people has never been an easy task; staff members readily admit this. They have tried to add to the variety of information contained in the school's paper because that is exactly what the "Spartan Spectator" should be ... the school's paper.

Coverage of sports, club activities, school and area issues have been viewed as important and balancing of these has been a challenge. Unfortunately, not everyone is happy all of the time about what is covered and what is not. Staff members are hard on themselves. Peers are harder still.

Overall, from the advisor, Mr. Kerson, whose time and energy was devoted unyieldingly, to the ad managers, to the writers, each person believed in the paper and its strong points and strove to make others believe the same.

Despite the losses of their devoted director, Mr. Cheney, as well as their substitute teacher, Mrs. Bolduc, both the Mixed Chorus and Concert Choir have fared exceptionally well this year.

The traditional Pops and Christmas concerts made evident the group's fruitful efforts, and highlighted the talent that occasionally effervesces from this bunch of tireless troubadoures.

Office Aides

Office Aides are those "little people" who jog tirelessly up and down stairs faithfully carrying messages to the far reaches of the high school. Their fingers may be worn down to the knuckles from filing forms and their eyes myopic from reading schedule cards, but the school would most probably come to a grinding halt if all the Aides were absent on the same day.

As ususal, the 1977 Honor Society Christmas Tea was a true success. Along with their usual tutoring duties and their active role in Spartanum, this year's group of elite scholars can even find time out for a little parlance and a little tea. (As soon as all the cookies, punch. and tea were downed, they all ran home and got to their books.

Spanish Club Officers (L-R): Karen Ross, Secretary-Treasurer; Kim O'Hara, President; Pam Clifford, Vice President.

This years Spanish club flourished and grew under the able Mrs. Beecher, in their never ending crusade to beat their rival French club foes. Great numbers attended their numerous activities such as their "La Fiesta de Navidad" — presumably a Spanish Christmas party, but, perhaps was a Roman Orgy. But solamente, great amounts of money, and entertainment were amassed at their Carnival and Taco Sale, and all wish much success for future Encounters of the Spanish Kind.

Student Government

This merry melange of menaces is up to their old tricks drawing up plans to take over the school and destroy R.G.H. III's indestructable iron - plated vehicle. So far plans have not been too successful, but on occasion, violent outbreaks upon fellow members have occurred.

Marathons seem to be this years main theme and right now they are staging a marathon meeting- who can listen to the faithful advisor for the longest time without going insane? Results aren't good, but they're trying.

The Guidance Aides volunteer their study periods to help the counselors with odd jobs - filing, copying and organizing material, and the oddest job of all, — coping with bewildered students. THE INFERNO

Alas, here they stand, sit, squat, whatever, these gorgeous devotees who have admirably withstood the heat of that virtual Boiling Room, inexplicably titled "204". They have endured orders, ridicule, lectures, abuse, not to mention our outbreak of the Bubonic Plague. Yet it is with absolute sincerity that we thank each of these highly trained intellectuals for their tireless efforts in the construction of this literary operation.
